Garry Roedler

Garry Roedler is a retired Lockheed Martin Senior Fellow, Past President of the International Council on Systems Engineering (INCOSE), and past Vice-chair for the NDIA Systems Engineering Division. He has over 35 years of systems engineering (SE) experience that spans the full life cycle and includes technical leadership roles in both programs and business functions. He is also an INCOSE Fellow, holds systems engineering certification at the Expert Systems Engineering Professional (ESEP) level, and received many prestigious awards, including the Lockheed Martin Nova Award, INCOSE Founders Award, IEEE Standards Association Lifetime Achievement Award, and the NDIA Ferguson Systems Engineering Excellence Award. Garry has held key leadership roles in several industry associations and standards development organizations, including editor of ISO/IEC/IEEE 15288, Systems Life Cycle Processes and several other standards related to Systems Engineering and System of Systems Engineering; and key editor roles for the Systems Engineering Body of Knowledge (SEBoK), the INCOSE Systems Engineering Handbook, and the INCOSE Systems Engineering Vision. This unique set of roles has enabled Garry to influence the technical co-evolution and consistency of these key Systems Engineering and System of Systems resources.
